

Dear Sirs,

As a self-funded retiree, I am deeply concerned that any review of the tax system does not have a negative impact on my retirement income, particularly during these difficult times. The recent introduction of income from Superannuation being untaxed and the cash refund of imputation credits, have had a substantial impact in enabling me, and other self-funded retirees, to stay independent of the Aged Pension.

Please be very careful in your considerations,

Yours Faithfully,

Roy Ball.
