

Dear Sir,

We are retirees and users of a Self Managed Super Fund who rely on dividend income. We believe the tax system should be supporting self-reliance in retirement saving and supporting the choice and competitions that such funds bring to Australia's superannuation system.

I am greatly concerned at reports that the Henry Tax review is considering recommendations to remove or change the dividend imputations scheme. This current scheme helps to support our desire to invest in Australian companies and any change or removal of this scheme will negatively impact the value of Australian companies we have invested in and who provide us with dividend income that includes franking credits.

This issue would have such an impact on us that it would become the major decision affecting our vote at the next Federal election.

Yours Faithfully

Sylvia Weber and Ken Batterham
