

I support the retention of the present dividend imputation system and oppose any system which would result in the double taxation of dividends, which I regard as most unfair and probably cause reluctance to invest in companies.

John S. Bentley
[removed for privacy reasons]