

My Husband and I are Self Funded Retirees and owing to the current global financial crisis our income has been halved. We were horrified to read of the Labor government plans to reduce the eligibility for the Health Card, and equally disgusted to hear of their plans to remove the dividend imputation system. We have worked hard all of our lives to set ourselves up for retirement, therefore not being a burden on the Government, and should therefore be rewarded in some small way. These plans by the Labor government are outrageous, and typically underhanded Labor. They make a big deal of themselves handing money out like Father christmas for their own political gain, meanwhile in the background they are taking away from the people who have provided for themselves. THESE PLANS BY LABOR CANNOT BE ALLOWED Our Income has shrunk whilst anyone on Centrelink benefit`s [removed] are still receiving the same amount of money.

Yours sincerely

Gabriel Ervin
