

I am writing to express my concern about rumours regarding changes to the dividend imputation system.

I have been working for 15 years to build an income producing share portfolio to sustain me in retirement. Tax credits form part of my gross income.

Double taxing of dividends is wrong and will tip many self funded retirees into the welfare rut.

Please do not meddle with a good and equitable system.

Regards

Graham Evans