

Australia's Future Tax System Review AFT Submissions@treasury.gov.au

As a user of a Self-Managed Superannuation Fund, I believe the tax system should be supporting self-reliance in retirement saving and therefore supporting the choice and competition that Self Managed Super Funds bring to Australia's superannuation system. I am alarmed at the reports that the Henry Tax Review is considering recommendations to remove or change the dividend imputation scheme.

I believe a removal or change to the scheme will impact negatively on the value of Australian companies I am invested in, who provide me the dividend income that include franking credits. It is a retrograde step to decrease the desire to invest in Australian companies.

I rely on dividend income, be it small, as a retiree nearing 70 years of age, who prioritised superannuation contributions as I worked as a single mother raising and supporting three children for many years.

I will not be voting for Labour government in the election next year, if the dividend imputation scheme is changed or removed.

E.Jolliffe

[removed for privacy reasons]