

DEAR Sir ,

As the user of a self managed super fund I am very concerned that the Treasury, and the Government are considering the Henry, TAX review .

As somebody that supports Australian Industry through the share market I find it hard to believe that you would even consider deflating our income any further than it already has been in the current economic climate. Most SMSF users invested in Australian Companies in the belief their future was safe and that they could survive with a sustainable income.

The Henry recommendations are unfair and unjust on self funded retirees who rely on an income from dividends.

I regard this issue as serious enough to affect my voting decision at the next Federal Election .

YOURS TRULY

PETER R MCKAY.
