

Hi,

As a private investor and a trustee of a DIY Super Fund I am totally dismayed with the prospect of dividend imputation being done away with. Such a move will be very detrimental to the stockmarket at a time when it has already suffered 50+% falls. DIY super funds will all suffer.

Please reconsider this "madness" and leave the dividend imputation system as it is.

Regards

Michael Raiteri

[removed for privacy reasons]