

Dear Sir

I wish to put forward my growing concerns the the rumoured harmful impacts on my retirement savings through this review by Ken Henry.

To wind back or eliminate Australia's dividend imputation system will negatively impact all superannuation funds especially SMSF's.

I believe the above will be worded so that the increased tax revenue will be used to reduce company tax and thus promote foreign investment into Australia. We have too much of that already.

this could also make share investing in Australia less attractive to Australian individuals. We are already under pressure from sharemarket investments. How do retirees in the long term live on their investments?

I believe you should think long and hard about the harm such a Review would do to retirees and SMSF's.

Sincerely
Maureen Salier
