

Dear Sir ,

I was appalled to read in the West Australian newspaper on the weekend at the latest ploy against self funded retirees such as myself.

The thought of losing more income, after the horrendous share market fall , induced deliberately by our government is beyond belief. Not to have access to imputation credits would be dreadful.

Not only have this government ignored self funded retirees in the $900 payment for no reason at all, but I have sent in a tax return and for the first time ever not paid tax. How utterly unfair can you be? I too deserve to have this payment made to me. Please do not consider treating imputation credits in a way which will be horrendous to people who are no strain on the government purse , plus private health care, for Godness sake do the right thing for once.

Sincerely
