

I would like to submit an application for a more just tax system that taxes big emitters most, does away with tax havens and taxes big gains made by merely moving monies around the globe. Germany is already introducing a car tax based on lower or higher emissions, we should be truly Australian and copy best practise in any country of the globe. With kind regards,

Eva Schlottmann