

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing to ask the Australian Government to consider the following changes in the Tax System in the taxation review:

Firstly, I urge you to support international implementation of the Currency Transaction Development Levy (CTDL) that would tax the richest market of all, the trade in foreign exchange.

Secondly, I would recommend a reversal of policy to decrease corporate and personal income tax, which over the last ten years has done nothing more than benefit the wealthy at the expense of the poor.

Thirdly, I ask that you follow the German Government's example and tax cars at a rate that is dependent on the amount of carbon emissions that they produce.

Lastly, I urge that the Government does more to prevent rich Australians from using tax havens to avoid their financial responsibility.

Thank you for taking the time to read these suggestions and I hope that you will incorporate them in the review to make a fairer tax system in Australia.

Yours faithfully,

Kathryn Rose
